Students must pass the lecture and laboratory parts of the course independently to obtain credit for the course. To pass the lecture portion, an overall grade of 50% must be achieved on the lecture parts of the grades, and a grade of 50% must be achieved on at least one of the two individual exams. Otherwise a mark of 47% or the mark calculated from the above distribution, whichever is lower, will be the reported grade.

Online Homework (www.saplinglearning.ca)

The coursework in Chem 2400/2480 involves extension use of problem solving skills. Development of these skills and understanding of the material is facilitated by the use of interactive homework assignments. You can choose to complete the online assignments, worth 10% of your final grade, and your midterm and final exam weights are 17% each for Chem 2400 and 22% each for Chem 2480. If you choose not to complete the online assignments, 5% will be added to each of your midterm and final, 22% each for Chem 2400 and 27% each for Chem 2480. If an assignment is not attempted, a grade of zero will be assigned. Details on how to register with Sapling can be found on Courselink.

Exams

Both the midterm and final exam will be conducted in two stages: an individually written first stage and a group written second stage. Groups of four will be used for the second stage. Both stages will complete exactly the same exam questions. The individual stage will be allotted 75 minutes of the exam period, and the group stage will be allotted 45 min. Students writing with SAS who wish to participate in the group stage must complete the individual stage 15 min before the group stage starts to allow time to move across campus and join the rest of the class. The final grade for each exam will be calculated as 85% Individual Exam + 15% Group Exam or 100% Individual Exam, which ever is higher.
